DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is in response to application, filed on November 13, 2003 has been considered but are deemed moot because of Restrictions Request below.
2. Claims 21-40 are pending.

Election/Restrictions

3. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even through the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143). Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 21-38, drawn to method, computer program and system for receiving a query, accessing data stored in an electronic data store containing at least web page identifying information and business category code information corresponding to the web page identifying information, at least some of the data being obtained by automatically traversing a network of web documents, extracting geographic data associated with the web documents, and identifying business category code information based on at least the extracted geographic data, searching data stored in the electronic data store based on information provided with respect to the query, returning a result to the query based on data stored in the data store that is identified incident to the searching, which is querying and accessing (searching) database for information, classified in class 707, subclass 3.

- II. Claims 39-40, drawn to a method for traversing the network to identify content associated with a uniform resource locator, extracting geographic data from the content associated with the identified uniform resource locator without manual user intervention, assigning a business category code to the uniform resource locator based on whether the extracted geographic data matches with data contained in a database, indexing the identified uniform resource locator and the assigned business category code in an electronic data store, which is indexing the identified information in database, which is manipulating data structure, classified in class 707, subclass 101.

4. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:
Inventions I and II are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instance case, invention I can be used for receiving a query, accessing data stored in an electronic data store containing at least web page identifying information and business category code information corresponding to the web page identifying information, at least some of the data being obtained by automatically traversing a network of web documents, extracting geographic data associated with the web documents, and identifying business category code information based on at least the extracted geographic data, searching data stored in the electronic data store based on information provided with respect to the query, returning a result to the query based on data stored in the data store that is identified incident to the searching, which is querying and accessing (searching) database for information.

Invention II can be used for traversing the network to identify content associated with a uniform resource locator, extracting geographic data from the content associated with the identified uniform resource locator without manual user intervention, assigning a business category code to the uniform resource locator based on whether the extracted geographic data matches with data contained in a database, indexing the identified uniform resource locator and the assigned business category code in an electronic data store, which is indexing the identified information in database, which is manipulating data structure. See MPEP 806.05(d).

5. Because these inventions are distinct for reasons given above and have acquired separate status in the art as shown their different classification, restriction for examination purpose as indicated is proper.

6. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group II each other, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

7. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

8. Applicants are advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even through the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

9. Applicants is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to be non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48 (b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48 (b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17 (i).
